

“ When I first walked into Wheatsfield, organic was not at the top of my shopping list. Over the years, I have become wiser! My husband and I became members of Wheatsfield in 1997. How we appreciate having a store in Ames that supplies a wide variety of organic, fresh, frozen and local products for our choosing. I am confident in my purchases that I am buying safe products, which is becoming more and more important every day. When the call went out to raise funds for a new store - a bigger store that could offer an expanded variety of foods and local produce with convenient shopping and parking, there was no question we wanted to help. Wheatsfield is a great asset to downtown Ames and to our whole county, and provides anyone that wishes to stop by the very best in grocery shopping and friendly help. Kells and I both want to see this store continue and thrive, and are more than overjoyed to be a part of helping fund this project. ”

“ It was an easy decision to provide a loan for Wheatsfield's expansion. With significant increases in consumer demand for organic, local and natural food and food products now is the time to create a stronger coop store to meet that demand. ”
